HELPING YOUR EMPLOYEES GROW AS Ag Professionals

AS AN EMPLOYER, you want to help your employees succeed in their jobs, as well as grow and flourish in daily activities and leadership roles. Your employees are a reflection on you.

AS AN ORGANIZATION, the Illinois Farm Bureau relies on our member leaders to not only promote Farm Bureau, but also to REPRESENT AGRICULTURE on a greater level.

WHY ALOT?

ALOT was started in 1979 as an extensive leadership development program. It has offered more than 1100 participants an opportunity to learn a broad range of process and content skills to enrich their leadership abilities and enhance agriculture’s voice in Illinois.

Agribusiness professionals will face and embrace challenges and victories through the ALOT program.

Of the all the training programs that have been available to my employees over the years I can assure you that none of them come even close to the training they get through your program. Not only has your program developed our employees to become more valuable to us but I have seen it change the way they handle things in their personal lives.

HERE’S WHAT A LOT GRADUATES HAVE TO SAY:

I am actively involved in community/volunteer groups, like Farm Bureau Young Leaders and Illinois FFA Alumni, where I can put my newly polished leadership skills to work.

Rachel Brown
Human Resources Generalist for Farm Credit Illinois

The reality far surpassed my expectations. Our class was a wonderful mix of ages, personalities, opinions, backgrounds, and life experiences.

Nelda Burnett
Retired, Senior Loan Officer Banterra Bank

Illinois Farm Bureau recognized then, and still continues to accommodate for men and women who not only love their roles of being involved in the production of livestock and crops, but want to help represent the industry as informed spokespersons to educate others.

Greg Webb
Vice President – State Government Relations ADM

Not only does this program teach personal skills, it also takes a micro and a macro look at the agriculture industry and provides alternative perspectives that not only broadened my horizons, but opened me up to new ways of thinking and problem solving.

You will leave a better, more productive individual.
